THE NEXT LEVEL IS WITHIN REACH

We're an all-in-one hockey performance platform connecting you to the specialists that will help you grow. Claim your public scouting profile, upload video or clip highlights from our game library, and get feedback from our growing marketplace of coaches, mentors, and advisors.

Only you can put in the work,
but we're here to help.

Game footage, interviews, and player bios from the 2024 Elite Prospects Pre-Draft Invitational will be uploaded onto your athlete profile in Stream Cortex. Scan the QR Code to claim your profile and start sharing your highlights today.

Share your journey

Build your own scouting profile using our growing video library, or upload your own. Highlight selected feedback to make your profile stand out, and let your family, friends, and community watch you grow.

Propel your growth

Find specialists to develop your skillset and share your clipped highlights directly with them for feedback. Manage your coaching and securely pay your specialists all in one place.

Make the next big leap

Choose the videos and feedback you want to share, link your Elite Prospects and socials, and highlight your career aspirations. Scouts can find your profile and reach out directly through Stream Cortex.

Build support from sponsors

We're changing the game around money in sports — because all athletes deserve quality coaching. Companies, community organizations, or even grandma and grandpa can donate directly to your profile for you to use on your development.

No hidden costs for athletes

All athletes can use Stream Cortex and build a scouting profile completely free of charge. And if you do spend any money on specialists, there are no fees or hidden charges.

HOW IT WORKS

1. Sign up and build your profile

Complete your profile with the information you'd like scouts or coaches to see, including your bio, Elite Prospects page, aspirations, and more.

2. Clip your highlights

Choose from our game library or upload your own video from LiveBarn, InStat, Hudl, or your phone. Clip your highlights through our built-in video tool.

3. Find a specialist

Search the specialist marketplace for the help you need. Share videos and messages privately and pay for their services securely.

4. Embrace your feedback

Receive your feedback and marked-up videos directly in your profile, and track your growth over time.

5. Get noticed

Share your strengths and focus areas. Let scouts discover your profile and contact you directly with tryout invitations, interview requests, or offers.
